Subject: Your Unfair Treatment

Dear Mr WILSON,

Over the past few weeks it seems to me that things are not well in your life. As a friend of yours this deeply saddens me because I do not feel that you deserve this treatment, you are a great person, not only do you treat everyone with the utmost respect, but you also never expect anything in return, this says a lot about you as a person.

I do not feel that anything being said about you is because of anything you did; I think that most of the things said are just because the people saying it are immature, and are probably having problems at home, or problems with something in their life; with these problems, these people just want an outlet for their anger, so they picked you for that scapegoat.

I think that the only way for you to make yourself feel better about this whole situation is not letting it bother you; If you let these bullies see you upset about it then they're just going to do it more and more. All you can do is just see them as immature and walk away and forget about it. Be the bigger person, do not stoop to their level. In addition, I am not going to let you deal with this alone, I will be there for you when you need someone, also if I see them being mean to you I will tell someone and we will get this situation taken care of once and for all. And always remember, you do not deserve this, step up, be the bigger man and end this yourself, do not let them get in your head.
